PROGRAM

BACKGROUND

Health problems stem from multiple causes: social, economic, cultural, psychological and others. As a result, they cannot be resolved by medical science alone and thus, require a multidisciplinary approach. However, the current situation in most countries is that few social scientists have sufficient insight into health problems and health scientists know little about the social context of the communities they serve. The gap between them forms an obstacle to the effective promotion of health in the community.

To address this gap, Mahidol University started to offer an MA program in Health Social Sciences in 1976 which was subsequently expanded as an International Program in 1994. The MA in Health Social Science International Program (henceforth, HSSIP) is taught by well-qualified specialists who share a solid interdisciplinary base. The HSSIP has attracted health science practitioners from various countries in the region: Cambodia, China, Indonesia, Lao PDR, Myanmar, the Philippines, Sri Lanka, the host country Thailand, Vietnam, and others.

PHILOSOPHY

The Health Social Science International Program (hereafter HSSIP) was established in order to integrate knowledge from research and theoretical works. International collaboration is also part of HSSIP goal aiming to solve health problems in Asia and other parts of the world. The Program sets its goal to build interdisciplinary knowledge of public health, medicine and social sciences. The philosophy behind this is to create integrated knowledge that applicable to solve medical and public health problems effectively and efficiently.

OBJECTIVE

The main objectives of the HSSIP are:

- To produce interdisciplinary competent researchers and social scientists in the region; and
- To provide basic and applied social science research in areas of health, particularly reproductive health, health equity, and health of people in tropical diseases prone areas

Regular bus No. 124 runs from Phuttamonthon 4 Road to Pinklao west of the Chao Phraya River (and continues into central Bangkok), connecting to the Express River Ferry at Pinklao Bridge. Other Regular buses No. 125 and No. 84n also runs on different routes from Phuttamonthon 4 Road to Samsen Train Station and Klongsarn Pier. Commuting between Bangkok and Salaya Campus by train (a 1-hour trip) is also possible, though less convenient.

Private vans ('rot dtoo') run between Salaya Campus and Pata Department Store in Pinklao. On campus they wait opposite of student dormitory 10, as well as at the bus stop by the pedestrian overpass opposite campus on Phuttamonthon 4 Road. In Pinklao they wait in front of Central Department Store.
